

How do we identify SEND?

- Class teacher / parents raise concerns with SENCO (SEN cause for concern form). This may be from observation / analysis of tracking data or pupil progress meetings.
- Discussion of what has already been put in place by class teacher to support the child and outcomes. Informal discussion with parents including what has been done as part of Quality First Teaching.
- Follow the Graduated Response (Oldham LEA)
- Group interventions to be put in place if not already done so. Reviewed at more formal meeting with parents if needed.
- Decision taken to continue to support child within group setting in class, or to offer SEND support.
- Appropriate provision put in place. Termly meetings with parents. Outside agencies involved where necessary. Training 'gaps' identified for staff/ parents wo work on.
- Plan, do, review. Use tracking data and Person Centred Reviews/ PIVATS (if appropriate) to measure progress and ensure appropriate strategies in place.

Parental engagement is strongly encouraged.

Parents can arrange to meet teacher / SENCO by appointment. Termly meetings are held to discuss the progress of SEND children. Most parents of SEND pupils attend all reviews / PCRs for their child. PCRs are adapted to suit needs of parents. Children (where applicable) are very involved in their review meetings; they enjoy sharing good news. The Pastoral Manager supports the SENCO in working with parents and children and both attend training related to their roles.

9 children have SEMH
Some children have more than one need identified.

How do we measure Progression?

ALL children are tracked half-termly and children with SEND have 3 Review meetings per year (one each term). Where progression needs to be broken down into smaller steps, we use PIVATS to track progress. Targets are reviewed and set at each review meeting / PCR. Where targets have not been met, we look at the provision and consider why: asking what's working/ what's not working and review interventions. This in turn can raise training needs for staff and sometimes parents. Through using PIVATS, we can specifically identify next steps, ensuring our children make good progress. Progression is recorded on target sheets / PIVATS file / termly tracker.

Training

Staff are proactive in requesting training to meet the needs of the children. SEND staff meetings are termly. In addition, staff have completed Emotional Literacy (BC), Meet and greet (BC) Autism Awareness Level 1 (most staff), Kids Skills (most staff). JL and HSJ have attended 'Adaptive Teaching Strategies (Mar 2022). SEML training by EPs and primary out reach. JL attends all SENDCO development days led by specialists and AEN team.
